

Brookhaven Community Energy is a community choice aggregation program operated by the town of Brookhaven. The Program pools the buying power of our residents and businesses into a large buying group, using that buying power to solicit natural gas at bulk pricing.

By default, your utility provides standard energy supply. With Brookhaven Community Energy, the energy supply will instead, be chosen by Brookhaven. National Grid will continue to deliver the energy that we, as a town, choose. National Grid will also continue to respond to power outages and manage all billing.
